

Glacier Ridge Vineyards is a small, perfectly located and managed vineyard that lies along the eastern shore of Seneca Lake in the glacially formed Finger Lakes region. Cranberry, black cherry, and raspberry fruit combine with aromas of lavender and spice to produce a nose that is rich and ethereal. The palate is firm, but supple, with rich fruit and hints of vanilla. Tastes great paired with pork tenderloin medallions sautéed with a garlic cherry glaze.

Vinification of this Cabernet Franc is straightforward and traditional using ripe, gently crushed fruit, 10% whole cluster inclusion, warm fermentations punched down frequently by hand, aging in a mix of new and older American oak (Canton Cooperage) barrels, and minimal racking and blending. The goal is to let the fruit express the structure, fruit and tannins that come from the vineyard.

2008 Vintage - Wine & Spirits Magazine - 90 Points

This graceful franc has a savory note of white pepper and a soy note over lean red cherry fruit. The texture is its best feature - lithe and energetic, with a lot of tension - and suggests it may age nicely, too. (W&S - Patrick J. Comisky, August 2011)

2007 Vintage - Wine Spectator - 89 Points

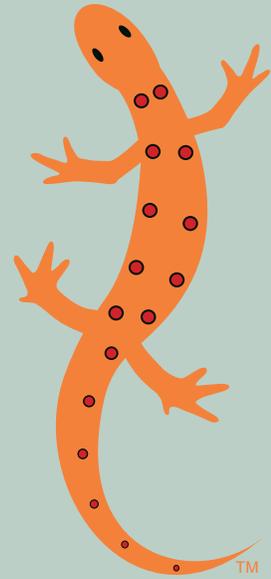

Fresh and ripe, with solid dark plum and blackberry fruit backed by well-integrated toast. Hints of bittersweet ganache and aged tobacco fill out the finish. (WS - James Molesworth, February, 2009)
